Organic skin and hair care
Posted by agnes261 - 2008/03/26 22:36

Have a look at my website, I have some lovely Organic beauty products. Therapeutics for eczema and psoriasis, Fragrance Free for sensitive skin or Free & Organic for Anti-Ageing.
www.ecoflow.com/agnes

==========

Re:Organic skin and hair care
Posted by Moonpoppy - 2008/03/29 22:28

Hi Agnes

I joined up with Ecoflow many moons ago when I had labrynthitis - my Pirhouette silver bracelet did the trick. A week later I'd finished with my "Star Wars" episodes B)
xx

==========

Re:Organic skin and hair care
Posted by agnes261 - 2008/03/29 22:56

Hi Moonpoppy
I'm glad your pirouette worked for you, that's the one I wear too it's a lovely piece of jewellery as well as the health benefits. Are you a distributor?

==========

Re:Organic skin and hair care
Posted by Moonpoppy - 2008/04/04 08:20

Hi Agnes

It's a classic, isn't it? Looks very chic and who would know what amazing healing powers it holds :silly:

I was a distributor but didn't renew in October, despite the changes in business it wasn't really for me ... hope it is all working out well for you 'tho! An excellent business structure if it fits with your lifestyle. I did buy gifts for my mum & dad 'tho before I dropped out :woohoo:
xx

==========

Re:Organic skin and hair care
Posted by agnes261 - 2008/04/04 17:22

I hope you don't regret dropping out, I know you really need to work hard at times but the products are so good, it makes it all worth while for me.

==========

Re:Organic skin and hair care
Posted by Moonpoppy - 2008/04/04 17:39

I'm pretty sure I won't, it didnt fit with my whole business vision but the lady who introduced me is proof that its a fabulous business opportunity :cheer: xx

==========