Are you watching the new series of The Apprentice? What do you think? Do you think you can pick out the winner already?

I absolutely love the Apprentice. It is to early for me to pick the winner as yet, as they are all full of it and they all think that they are the best. I am glad however that Nicholas went as he fully deserved to b fired.

Completely agree Nicholas deserved to be fired! Very hard to pick a winner yet - they are all made to look daft by the editing!

What did we think about Simon going then? I agree with Sir Alan personally - Simon got too stressed in a leadership situation.

He was a nice guy I think, not so full of himself as some as the others. There are definitely some very strong personalities out there.

I just love the backstabbing:laugh:

I still don't know who is going to be the winner, Raef is probably a contender. I think a few need to go yet for us to see who is going to shine through. To be honest I don't think I would employ any of them!!

Simon took what Sir Alan said last week to heart and felt he had something to prove but unfortunately he did the exact opposite to what he should have done! He went a bit crazy as a manager & just shot himself in the foot.

I agree Raef could be a contender - under that posh accent there appears to be quite a decent human being, from what we've seen so far...

So glad the two Jennys went! Still think Raef is a contender for the win.

Raef is growing on me too. The week before I really admired him for standing up for Sara after they tried to rip her apart when back in the house.

I don't think he's put a foot wrong yet, and he's definitely got the right idea about team work and not slagging other people off.

I can't believe it - Raef fired!! Who is going to win now? Why does Sir Alan keep saving Michael? I'm totally confused now!

I know, gutted! It was a bad task that he lead, but taking the series as a whole, Michael should have been fired, not Raef!

Well at last Michael got the boot! He really was an idiot!

So, 4 finalists! Wonder why he did that? I thought it was going to be Lee and Claire in the final. Now they need to win the challenge or they will be out! That would be a laugh!

Oh my god, a reverse pteradactyl impression in an interview! What was he thinking of!?

I went to see SATC last night, so will be watching The Apprentice on Saturday night.

I will not be back on this thread until I have seen it :laugh:
